Pediatric Hospitalist Research Needs Assessment

The AAP Section on Hospital Medicine Research Subcommittee is conducting a survey to understand the needs and perspectives of pediatric hospitalists with regard to research and quality improvement participation. The results will be used to plan and improve activities offered at annual meetings, as well as help us develop other resources for hospitalists in both academic and non-academic institutions who want to participate in research and QI. We would like your input regardless of whether or not you currently participate in research or QI projects.

It's a quick survey (less than 10 minutes according to our pilot testers), and we will be collecting responses until just after the PHM meeting in Tampa (August 1, 2009). However, just because we are collecting until then doesn't mean you should wait!
